9th Oct	Red Kite Flying up close
20th Nov	A Leaf-less Autumn Forest
11th Dec	A Frosty Rural View

Welcoming, well priced, fantastic teaching, installs a sense of self worth into all customers. Genuinely lovely hard working people, sharing their love and passion for art with all.

They've done amazing work by supporting the community of Banbury, by sharing, supporting and teaching art online and in back to teaching in person. What a team!!

Barry and Jacqui are simply amazing always on message available to help and source products and do so much to support the local art community. The shops a real treasure trove

A small art shop with an amazing array of art supplies and Barry to teach how to use them all by giving a wide choice of art lessons.

Barry is amazing, so helpful and during the last 2 years he has inspired so many people who have struggled in these mad times. A wonderful shop run by wonderful people.

An amazing, coring business full of artery splendour and staff who are passionate about art and helping others to enjoy their creative gifts.

This shop is quite small but amazingly special Barry the owner kept us all painting during lockdown with online classes even delivering art materials to customers himself the shop is well stocked with all kinds of art and craft materials and offers classes and lots of free advice it's a little gem.

As the classroom had to close for the duration, classes were offered online and proved a lifeline to many. Barry Whitehouse teaches so many different techniques, but most of all he provides a safe and congenial place to learn, and imparts confidence to all.

Lovely little shop brimming with Art and offering live and online art classes. Hard working owner Barry does excellent demonstrations and classes.

There is always a lot of stock available for you to choose from, they are always willing to give advice on any art products.

A wonderful art shop and fantastic in-house and online art classes. All classes taught with great skill and good humour.

It is a small, friendly and well stocked art shop providing art lessons, advice and lectures. Continuing online all through lockdown saving my sanity!!

This business saved my sanity during lockdown, and beyond. They provided art classes that soothed my soul and continue to supply all the art supplies I need.

A gem of an art supplies shop, wonderful online and in person art classes together with the wonderful Barry, it's owner, and his assistant Jacqui. Just the best small business I have ever come across.

Small shop with big heart. All the supplies you need and then the classes to teach you how to use those supplies! Absolutely brilliant and lovely!

Everyone that works there is so friendly and knowledgeable and happy to help. Offering paid lessons to develop skills or free demonstrations. Online and in person classes to pick from. Great place to immerse yourself in something you love and know everyone else there feels the same!

The Artery is an old fashioned art shop which concentrates on excellent customer service, with prices that are comparable to the large multi-nationals. Service and superb, professional advice make the shopping experience a joy. The online service has been essential throughout the Covid lockdowns.

Barry and Jacqui should be available on prescription from the doctors! Not just an art shop but a whole community.

Generous with his time & expertise & regularly gives free tutorials to people who otherwise couldn't afford to learn. Unbeatable customer service & amazing sense of humour even in the most difficult of times. The Artery definitely got me through very dark days & deserves highest recognition.
